Conferences Designed is one of the first to gain Omni Meeting Certification

Dallas, Texas, September 5, 2014 – Ms. Cori Dossett, President of Conferences Designed, a full service meeting planning firm in Dallas, is among the first certified Omni Meeting Specialists.

The Omni Meetings University (OMU) is the online educational university offered by Omni Hotels & Resorts. The program aims to provide planners with a deeper understanding of the Omni brand as well as top meetings industry and technology trends.

Ms. Dossett successfully completed the curriculum of OMU to receive her Omni Meeting Specialist certification. Through the educational portal, Ms. Dossett gained a first-hand knowledge of the brand collections and resourceful venues that meet the objectives of different event or meeting needs. As an exclusive member of the program, she had access to updates or unique meeting offerings, current industry trends, and new technology.

Ms. Dossett founded Conferences Designed in the Spring of 2012, and the business has been growing at a fast pace. She shares her success based on the values of integrity and service, her commitments to professional development, and effective collaborations with partners.
